The University of Alberta and the University of Alberta Students' Union occupy Indigenous land in amiskwaciwâskahikan (Beaver Hills House), on Treaty 6 territory. From time immemorial, the banks along the river valley have been known as the Pehonan, a meeting place for the nêhiyawak (Cree), the Niitsitapi (Blackfoot), Métis, Dènesųłiné (Dene), Ojibway/Saulteaux/Anishinaabe, Haudenosaunee and others. The University, the Students' Union and much of the city are located on the unlawfully stolen land of the forcibly removed Papaschase Cree.

We acknowledge that sharing this land gives each of us the responsibility to research the historic contexts of Treaty 6, to reflect on our personal relationships to the land, the Nations we've named, and to our roles in upholding justice on this territory. Since they began, the Students' Union and the University have benefited from historic and ongoing dispossession of land and resources from Indigenous Peoples. As a result, it is our responsibility to seek the restitution of this land and its resources. Finally, we seek to do better by working to make our learning, research, and governance align with the histories, languages, teachings, and cultures of First Nations, Métis, and Inuit Peoples in the land presently occupied by the Canadian state.

We encourage critical reflection by asking the following question. In relation to the territory on which you are situated, what role do you play in strengthening the resistance and resurgence of Indigenous students within your communities?

2024-02/6 OPEN FORUM

ALL: Questions GLOCK if the UASU will be recommending FOTANG (former UASU President 2023-24) to vote against re-electing Bill Flanagan as the president.

GLOCK: States that FOTANG is on the committee as a student-at-large and that the UASU does not have a seat on this committee.

ALL: Adds that FOTANG was put on the committee while serving as the UASU President and that the student-at-large position was given to them considering their previous involvement. Believes that UASU should have a say on FOTANG's decision since they were a former UASU president.

GLOCK: Responds that they were not involved with the election of FOTANG to the Presidential Review Committee, but can confirm that they are on the committee as a student-at-large and not representing the UASU executives.

DARLING: States that the Executives, during the general election, included advocacy for transparency on their platforms. However, they feel that they have lost faith in the Executives as their representatives due to the Executives prioritizing and similarly presenting favour towards groups on campus like SJP.

ABBASI: Responds that the Executive team stands to represent all students and is focused to defend the right of freedom of speech for all university students.

2024-02/7 QUESTION PERIOD

THIESSSEN: Questions the university admins on what assurance they can give the student body that freedom of expression and students' dignity are kept as a top value, alongside EDI.

SMITH: Answers that the University has been working on an EDI action plan. Events from the past week showed that there's still room for improvement. In the past few months, the team has learned a lot about student experiences, injustices and barriers that students face.

PADFIELD: Adds that actions are a big part of how the university rebuilds students' trust. Recalls that they were able to welcome about 500 protestors back on campus and maintain a peaceful and active protest on that same day. Students have expressed their opinions freely which is a key value of the institution.

SANGHERE: Hopes for better paths to repair and build relationships with the students and EDI needs to be the strongest value in order to accomplish this.

POLENUK (The Gateway): Questions the university administration if any consultation was done with EDI staff regarding calling EPS for the removal of the encampment.

SMITH: Answers that the decision was made at the presidential level. Adds that there is an ongoing conversation that is being held and is committed to contributing to this conversation through an EDI and safety lens. States that they were not on campus at the time of the event and, hence, weren't involved, but assures that EDI is at the heart of every conversation that they bring forward.

SANGHERE: Adds that they weren't part of the conversations too. However, they want to center EDI in the work they do and advocate that towards the UofA community.
